Section VII. Technical Specifications

Notes for Preparing the Technical Specifications

A set of precise and clear specifications is a prerequisite for Bidders to respond realistically and competitively to the requirements of the Procuring Entity without qualifying their Bids. In the context of Competitive Bidding, the specifications (e.g. production/delivery schedule, manpower requirements, and after-sales service/parts, descriptions of the lots or items) must be prepared to permit the widest possible competition and, at the same time, present a clear statement of the required standards of workmanship, materials, and performance of the goods and services to be procured. Only if this is done will the objectives of transparency, equity, efficiency, fairness, and economy in procurement be realized, responsiveness of bids be ensured, and the subsequent task of bid evaluation and post-qualification facilitated. The specifications should require that all items, materials and accessories to be included or incorporated in the goods be new, unused, and of the most recent or current models, and that they include or incorporate all recent improvements in design and materials unless otherwise provided in the Contract.

Samples of specifications from previous similar procurements are useful in this respect. The use of metric units is encouraged. Depending on the complexity of the goods and the repetitiveness of the type of procurement, it may be advantageous to standardize the General Technical Specifications and incorporate them in a separate subsection. The General

Technical Specifications should cover all classes of workmanship, materials, and equipment commonly involved in manufacturing similar goods. Deletions or addenda should then adapt the General Technical Specifications to the particular procurement.

Care must be taken in drafting specifications to ensure that they are not restrictive. In the specification of standards for equipment, materials, and workmanship, recognized Philippine and international standards should be used as much as possible. Where other particular standards are used, whether national standards or other standards, the specifications should state that equipment, materials, and workmanship that meet other authoritative standards, and which ensure at least a substantially equal quality than the standards mentioned, will also be acceptable. The following clause may be inserted in the Special Conditions of Contract or the Technical Specifications.

Sample Clause: Equivalency of Standards and Codes

Wherever reference is made in the Technical Specifications to specific standards and codes to be met by the goods and materials to be furnished or tested, the provisions of the latest edition or revision of the relevant standards and codes shall apply, unless otherwise expressly stated in the Contract. Where such standards and codes are national or relate to a particular country or region, other authoritative standards that ensure substantial equivalence to the standards and codes specified will be acceptable.

Reference to brand name and catalogue number should be avoided as far as possible; where unavoidable they should always be followed by the words “or at least equivalent.” References to brand names cannot be used when the funding source is the GOP.

Where appropriate, drawings, including site plans as required, may be furnished by the Procuring Entity with the Bidding Documents. Similarly, the Supplier may be requested to provide drawings or samples either with its Bid or for prior review by the Procuring Entity during contract execution.

Bidders are also required, as part of the technical specifications, to complete their statement of compliance demonstrating how the items comply with the specification.

Technical Specifications

Item	Specification	Statement of Compliance
		[Bidders must state here either “Comply” or “Not Comply” against each of the individual parameters of each Specification stating the corresponding performance parameter of the equipment offered. Statements of “Comply” or “Not Comply” must be supported by evidence in a Bidders Bid and cross-referenced to that evidence. Evidence shall be in the form of manufacturer’s un-amended sales literature, unconditional statements of specification and compliance issued by the manufacturer, samples, independent test data etc., as appropriate. A statement that is not supported by evidence or is subsequently found to be contradicted by the evidence presented will render the Bid under evaluation liable for rejection. A statement either in the Bidder's statement of compliance or the supporting evidence that is found to be false either during Bid evaluation, post-qualification or the execution of the Contract may be regarded as fraudulent and render the Bidder or supplier liable for prosecution subject to the applicable laws and issuances.]

1. Background

Clean air is a basic human right. Air can be polluted through human activities. Pollutants have increased substantially in the past years because of rapid economic growth. Contributors to this problem are fossil fuel combustions from small and medium industrial and commercial installations, construction activities and vehicle exhaust. The problem is felt in most major urban cities in the country where urbanization has led to more factories being set up, an increase in population density and an increase in vehicle registration. Studies have shown that polluted air causes many diseases which affects the productivity of employees and, in turn, adversely affects the economy.

The Philippine Clean Air Act of 1999 (Republic Act 8749) provides the guideline values for pollutants, such as sulfur dioxide (SO₂), carbon monoxide (CO), particulate matter (PM), nitrogen oxides (NO_x) and ozone (O₃). The existing legal framework of this Act and its subsequent regulatory documents outline the government's measures to monitor, report and reduce air pollution and to incorporate environmental protection into its development plans.

Areas with high air pollution levels and should essentially be the basis for planning the strategies and development of action plans for control & abatement of air pollution. Based on the data generated over the years, it is becoming evident that air pollution levels are significantly high in some areas of the National Capital Region (NCR), particularly with reference to suspended particulate matter (SPM) and respirable suspended particulate matter (RSPM).

The ambient air quality monitoring is being carried out in various stations in NCR by the Environmental Management Bureau-NCR (EMB-NCR). However, aside from monitoring pollutants, it is also equally important on the actual pollutants that the general public is exposed to (at receptor sites) thus there is a need to conduct of an emission inventory (EI) and an air dispersion model so that these air pollutants identified in the emission sources can be mapped to address and mitigate measures to reduce the air pollution.

2. Objectives

The general objective of the Emission Inventory is to map the emission sources in order to institute emission reduction protocols for the Cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong.

The specific objectives are:

- A) to calculate the existing emission load for the cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong and detailing the activity rates of the different stationary, mobile and area sources in the respective city and emission factors used.
- B) to provide an improved understanding of the causes and links that determines air quality to the personnel of the Environment/ Air Pollution Division and stakeholders in the cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong along with suggesting measures that can be taken to improve the air quality in the city.

3. Scope of Work/Tasks/Output

The work covered by this ToR includes, but is not limited to, the tasks detailed below.

Task 1. Update the existing emission inventory for the cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong.

- i. Agree on the year to be covered by the emission inventory along with the objectives and assumptions to be implemented in the emission inventory (e.g., consider post-pandemic scenarios to be provided by each city);
- ii. Use the existing data compiled by EMB-NCR;
- iii. Identify and geo-locate the respective different stationary, area and mobile sources of these three cities (Makati, Pasay and Mandaluyong);
- iv. Quantify the activity of each emission source (including QA/QC) and determine the pollutant concentrations (SO₂, CO, PM₁₀, PM_{2.5}, NO₂ and O₃) emitted by each source; and
- v. Determine pollution hotspots in the cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong based on the calculated emissions.

Task 2. Assist and capacitate EMB-NCR, NCR-ASGB members, and personnel of the Environment/Air Pollution Division in the cities of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong in the conduct of a bottoms-up emission inventory.

Task 3. Provide other related activities that are necessary to complete the project.

Task 4. Presentation and submission of Emission Inventory Report (EIR).

4. Program of Work

A detailed work and financial plan will be agreed between EMB-NCR and the consulting firm. The tabulated activity are as follows:

A detailed sampling method (specifying the data needed (e.g., number of households and establishments to be sampled, etc) and how the data will be gathered) will be provided by the consulting firm which needs to be approved by EMB-NCR before the project implementation. Existing data compiled by EMB-NCR and the LGUs of Makati, Pasay, and Mandaluyong will be used in the study.
